APOLOGETICS CORNER

Defending our Faith with the Truth

By Father Dennis M. Gordon, FSSP

Mary, conceived without sin

Question: “Let’s return to the Virgin Mary. You say that she was conceived without sin. What are more proofs of that from the Bible?”

Answer: “Excellent question! After answering it, I hope you too will see why the Bible says Our Lady is so special!

“In Wisdom 8:20 we read that Wisdom ‘came to a body undefiled.’ Wisdom is Our Lord Jesus Christ Himself, as the Bible tells us in 1 Corinthians 1:24, where He is called ‘Christ... the wisdom of God.’ Since the Bible calls Christ the wisdom of God, and since we see that the Bible says that wisdom came to a body undefiled, we must conclude that the Blessed Virgin Mary’s body, to which Christ came, was indeed a body undefiled. Sin is defiles the body: for this reason the Bible attests to the fact that Our Lady was conceived without sin, for if She did have sin, then She could not be undefiled.

“In the Canticle of Canticles [Song of Songs] 4:7 we read about the bridegroom saying to His beloved, ‘Thou art all fair, O my love, and there is not a spot in thee.’ Who is the bridegroom? We know that the bridegroom is Our Lord Jesus, since St. John the Baptist called Him this in John 3:29. Our Lord Himself also referred to Himself as the bridegroom in Matthew 9:15.

“So who is the bride? The bride represents several realities: the Church, a soul in the state of grace... but it also represents Our Lady, the Blessed Virgin, Herself! We know that the bride does refer to Our Lady in addition to the other two, because the Bible uses this expression for this woman:

‘most fair among women... most beautiful among women...’ (Canticle 1:7; 5:9). The New Testament identifies this title ‘most fair/beautiful among women’ as pertaining to the Blessed Virgin Mary when the Angel of the Lord called Her a variant of this same title in Luke 1:28 and Elizabeth, filled with the Holy Ghost, used this title for Her again in Luke 1:42 (‘blessed art thou among women’). The Angel of the Lord also said that Our Lady is ‘full of grace’ (Luke 1:28). Being ‘full of grace’ does make a woman fair/beautiful among women. The early Christian writers saw the connection between the bride in the Canticle being called beautiful among women and Our Lady being called blessed among women, so the early Christians saw that this bride was Our Lady.

“The bridegroom in the Canticle then says to this woman, ‘there is not a spot in thee’ (Canticle 4:7). If there were sin in Her, it could not be said of Her that there is not a spot in thee, so this woman must be sinless.

“Finally, the Bible tells us that ‘Wisdom will not enter into a malicious soul, nor dwell in a body subject to sins’ (Wisdom 1:4). Since Wisdom, which the Bible says is Christ Himself, did dwell in Our Lady’s body, we know from the Bible that Her body was not subject to sins! This means She must have been immaculately conceived!

“Can you see now how the Bible says that Our Lady is so special!”

On Confession

St. Francis de Sales

OUR Saviour has bequeathed the Sacrament of Penitence and Confession to His Church in order that therein we may be cleansed from all our sins, however and whenever we may have been soiled thereby. Therefore, my child, never allow your heart to abide heavy with sin, seeing that there is so sure and safe a remedy at hand. If the lioness has been in the neighbourhood of other beasts she hastens to wash away their scent, lest it should be displeasing to her lord; and so the soul which has ever so little consented to sin, ought to abhor itself and make haste to seek purification, out of respect to His Divine Gaze Who beholds it always. Why should we die a spiritual death when there is a sovereign remedy available?

Make your confession humbly and devoutly, and frequently, even though your conscience is not burdened with mortal sin; for in confession you do not only receive absolution for your venial sins, but you also receive great strength to help you in avoiding them henceforth, clearer light to discover your failings, and abundant grace to make up whatever loss you have incurred through those faults. You exercise the graces of humility, obedience, simplicity and love, and by this one act of confession you practice more virtue than in any other. Be sure always to entertain a hearty sorrow for the sins you confess, however small they are; as also a steadfast resolution to correct them in future. Some people go on confessing venial sins out of mere habit, and conventionally, without making any effort to correct them, thereby losing a great deal of spiritual good. Supposing that you confess having said something untrue, although without evil consequences, or some careless words, or excessive amusement;--repent, and make a firm resolution of amendment: it is a mere abuse to confess any sin whatever, be it mortal or venial, without intending to put it altogether away, that being the express object of confession.

Beware of unmeaning self-accusations, made out of a mere routine, such as, "I have not loved God as much as I ought; I have not prayed with as much devotion as I ought; I have not loved my neighbor as I ought; I have not received the Sacraments with sufficient reverence;" and the like. Such things as these are altogether useless in setting the state of your conscience before your Confessor, inasmuch as all the Saints in Paradise and all men living would say the same. But examine closely what special reason you have for accusing yourself thus, and when you have discovered it, accuse yourself simply and plainly of your fault.

For instance, when confessing that you have not loved your neighbor as you ought, it may be that what you mean is, that having seen some one in great want whom you could have succored, you have failed to do so. Well then, accuse yourself of that special omission: say, "Having come across a person in need, I did not help him as I might have done," either through negligence, or hardness, or indifference, according as the case may be. So again, do not accuse yourself of not having prayed to God with sufficient devotion; but if you have given way to voluntary distractions, or if you have neglected the proper circumstances of devout prayer--whether place, time, or attitude--say so plainly, just as it is, and do not deal in generalities, which, so to say, blow neither hot nor cold.

Again, do not be satisfied with mentioning the bare fact of your venial sins, but accuse yourself of the motive cause which led to them. For instance, do not be content with saying that you told an untruth which injured no one; but say whether it was out of vanity, in order to win praise or avoid blame, out of heedlessness, or from obstinacy. If you have exceeded in society, say whether it was from the love of talking, or gambling for the sake of money, and so on. Say whether you continued long to commit the fault in question, as the importance of a fault depends greatly upon its continuance: e.g., there is a wide difference between a passing act of vanity which is over in a quarter of an hour, and one which fills the heart for one or more days. So you must mention the fact, the motive and the duration of your faults. It is true that we are not bound to be so precise in confessing venial sins, or even, technically speaking, to confess them at all; but all who aim at purifying their souls in order to attain a really devout life, will be careful to show all their spiritual maladies, however slight, to their spiritual physician, in order to be healed.

Do not spare yourself in telling whatever is necessary to explain the nature of your fault, as, for instance, the reason why you lost your temper, or why you encouraged another in wrong-doing. Thus, some one whom I dislike says a chance word in joke, I take it ill, and put myself in a passion. If one I like had said a stronger thing I should not have taken it amiss; so in confession, I ought to say that I lost my temper with a person, not because of the words spoken so much as because I disliked the speaker; and if in order to explain yourself clearly it is necessary to particularize the words, it is well to do so; because accusing one's self thus simply one discovers not merely one's actual sins, but one's bad habits, inclinations and ways, and the other roots of sin, by which means one's spiritual Father acquires a fuller knowledge of the heart he is dealing with, and knows better what remedies to apply. But you must always avoid exposing any one who has borne any part in your sin as far as possible. Keep watch over a variety of sins, which are apt to spring up and flourish, often insensibly, in the conscience, so that you may confess them and put them away.

Do not lightly change your Confessor, but having chosen him, be regular in giving account of your conscience to him at the appointed seasons, telling him your faults simply and frankly, and from time to time--say every month or every two months, show him the general state of your inclinations, although there be nothing wrong in them; as, for instance, whether you are depressed and anxious, or cheerful, desirous of advancement, or money, and the like.
